NTC Launches AHJ Academy

National Training Center (NTC) launches AHJ Academy. AHJ Academy is available to all Authority Having Jurisdiction (AHJ) industry professionals for FREE. NTC's Vice President, Bryan McLane explains the details, "Being on the front lines of fire industry training it was brought to our attention by trade professionals that AHJ's throughout the US are interested in closing the gap between themselves and technicians. It is our intent in offering the AHJ Academy to help AHJ's better understand our industry, codes, and get them on the road to NICET Fire Alarm certification. The training will cover general fire alarm technology, code specific – NFPA 72, and NICET Fire Alarm."

The 40 + hours of free training for AHJ's will be available starting in July, 2010. The training will be held online through NTC's self-paced training program: Training Department. Signing up and attending is simple and convenient. Visit: www.NationalTrainingCenter.net or call 702-648-8899

About National Training Center

National Training Center was founded in 2002 by Charles Aulner. The company was started on a shoestring budget and an idea, 'to provide the Very Best in Training'. In just a few years NTC grew to be the most respected and recognized training provider to the low voltage industry. NTC's staff of industry professionals continues to live up to that tradition today. NTC provides training to meet your company's needs, offering training solutions through their live training, Webinars, high quality online recorded training (available 24/7), and complete line of professional references.
